“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world.” — Margaret Mead.

How true this is! Kindervelt is made up of small groups of committed individuals and we accomplish much. I am glad to see all the activities for the spring as we are heading down the stretch to the end of our commitment to the Heart Institute – Kindervelt Neurodevelopmental and Educational Clinic. Please support your group’s activities and invite your friends to share in the fun of a Kindervelt event. Take those friends with you as you support an event or two that are hosted by another group. All of our dollars add up and make a difference in the life of a child.

Kathy Roth and Kristin Rose have been busy working on putting together the Gala Committee for November 2016. Bonnie Hueneman has completed most of the Kindervelt Krafts Committee for 2016. Donna Boggs and the Nominating Committee will soon begin the task of filling positions for the Board of Trustees for 2016-17. Please consider stepping up to take a leadership position for next year – the rewards are indescribable! I have met some of my best friends by working with them on citywide committees.

March is also the month for group officer elections. Please remember that with everyone helping the workload is lighter. There are many jobs to be done and I am sure that there is something that you can do to help. Don’t make the mistake of thinking that your little bit of time is not important. Spreading the work around helps everyone. So step forward and do your “little” bit – whether it is being group president, chairing a project, recruiting new members, or participating in your group activities and see what a difference it makes!

We have just enjoyed the fun of the fourth “Let the Good Times Bowl” at Axis Alley. It was a very successful event with many new bowlers coming to support Kindervelt while having a great time. I hope that you were able to come participate in some way – bowling, cheering, or buying raffle tickets. It was a wonderful opportunity to come together for a “Good Time”. Thanks to Charlotte McBrayer and her committee for all of the hard work.

I know that you are all busy planning Springtime events – fashion shows, Easter egg hunts, flower and bake sales, Bunco parties, dinners and wine tastings. Check out the activities of other groups and try to attend a few – they are truly a good time and support a worthy cause.

“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world.” — Margaret Mead.

Cincinnati Children’s Receives $32.5 Million NIH Grant for Multi-Center Heart Study

Cincinnati Children’s has won a $32.5 million, five-year grant from the Bench to Bassinet Program of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to determine why children are born with heart problems and find effective treatments.

Congenital heart defects are the most common type of birth defect and a major cause of infant death. Nearly 40,000 children are born with congenital heart defects each year in this country. Experts estimate that approximately 1 to 2 million adults and 800,000 children in the United States currently live with the disease.

NIH’s National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute (NHLBI) launched the Bench to Bassinet Program to accelerate pediatric cardiovascular research from discovery and translational research to clinical testing. The institute has been joined by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD) on this latest round of funding. NICHD is investing in the program in part to support research exploring the high incidence of neurodevelopmental disabilities in children with severe heart defects. The goal is to uncover genetic mutations that affect both heart and brain development.

Cincinnati Children’s is receiving the funds to be the administrative coordinating center for the program. The coordinating center provides infrastructure to enhance collaborations among program members. It also facilitates the transfer of promising research from the laboratory to the clinic for the most important cardiovascular clinical care problems.

The award is believed to be the largest single grant ever received by the medical center.

To date, the Bench to Bassinet Program has successfully collected clinical, environmental and genomic data for over 10,000 children with heart defects through a collaboration involving nine academic health centers.

“As the coordinating center, we can make sure that research infrastructure and data are shared and integrated to accelerate discovery of the genetic and biological mechanisms of congenital heart defects,” said Eileen C. King, PhD, principal investigator of the project and associate professor in the Division of Biostatistics and Epidemiology at Cincinnati Children’s. “This will ultimately lead to improvements in treating or even preventing these often devastating defects.”

One of the program’s strengths is the national, multi-institutional expertise and collaboration that Cincinnati Children’s will coordinate.

“Cincinnati Children’s will be able to leverage its local clinical and research resources to augment the outstanding collective research environment that the Bench to Bassinet Program brings together,” said Peter White, PhD, co-principal investigator and director of the Division of Biomedical Informatics. “The medical center offers a unique combination of world-leading pediatric cardiovascular and neurocognitive expertise, advanced infrastructure and informatics, outstanding institutional support, and state-of-the-art technology.”

“The Bench to Bassinet Program has made important advances toward a better understanding of the etiology of congenital heart defects and the underlying basic biological mechanisms,” said Charlene A. Schramm, PhD, an administrator of the program at NHLBI. “Through its role as the administrative coordinating center, Cincinnati Children’s will be essential to the continuing success of the program by facilitating critical research interactions and managing the use of shared resources.”

In August 2015, the NHLBI renewed its support for two components of the Bench to Bassinet program: the Cardiovascular Development Consortium and the Pediatric Cardiac Genomics Consortium, which were both launched in 2010.

The Cardiovascular Development Consortium conducts basic research with laboratory models to discover which genes are turned on and off during heart development and how these genes direct or influence cardiovascular development. The consortium includes the University of Utah, Harvard Medical School, the J. David Gladstone Institutes, and the University of California, San Diego.

The Pediatric Cardiac Genomics Consortium uses genetic data from thousands of individuals born with congenital heart disease to uncover genes that may cause the disease and how those genes influence clinical outcome. This consortium includes the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, Boston Children’s Hospital, Yale University, the University of Utah, and the J. David Gladstone Institutes.

The Bench to Bassinet’s additional flagship program is the Pediatric Heart Network. Established in 2001, this network represents a group of pediatric cardiovascular centers in the United States and Canada conducting research to determine optimal therapies for children with congenital and acquired heart disease. The network was created to help doctors and nurses design and carry out clinical research so that children with heart diseases can receive high-quality, evidence-based care. Cincinnati Children’s has been a member of the Pediatric Heart Network since 2006.
Saturday, February 27th, Kindervelt hosted another successful citywide event. The 4th Annual “Let the Good Times Bowl” was held at Axis Alley on the Levee with both sessions completely sold out. Bowlers enjoyed a fun atmosphere of friendly competitive bowling during the two sessions from 3-5 and 6-8. Thank you to everyone who participated in the event and support Cincinnati Children’s Heart Institute-Kindervelt Neurodevelopmental and Educational Clinic.

Trophies were awarded to our major sponsors, which include; Bahl & Gaynor Investment Counsel-Spare Sponsor ($5,000), Phototype-Split Sponsor ($3,000), and Axia Consulting-Hook Sponsor ($1,000).

Trophies were awarded to the high and low average score at each session. Session One; High Average-Krumm & Co., Low Average – Axia Consulting Northern Kentucky. Second Session; High Average- Axia Consulting East, Low Average-Phototype. A trophy was awarded to the team that raised the most money in donation dollars, Carter’s Crew. Carter’s Crew raised over $1600 in donations.

Our trophies are created by Cincinnati Children’s Champion Kids comprised of children that have spent time at Cincinnati Children’s with a health issue. Each year the bowling committee is given bowling pins from Axis Alley and the Champion Kids paint each pin at a special party planned by the Medical Center. Bases are made and labels created. The pins then become the trophies to present each year at the event.

Split-the-Pot raffle was planned for each session. The winner for session one was Tina Kasidonis of Kindervelt #30 for $64.00. The winner session two was Barry Stroube of American Scaffold for $45.00. Congratulations to both winners.

The five raffle packages offered were well received. Ticket sales were high and we had very excited winners at the end of the evening. The winners were:

- Bourbon, Spirits and more
- Bowling Package
- Dining Out Package
- Leo the Lion Art Print
- Outdoor Package

Kindervelt Krafts

I am excited to update everyone on the development of Kindervelt Krafts. Yes, the name of our event is Kindervelt Krafts with a K. We have been working very hard to get everything lined up, and I hope your groups are krafting up a storm.

Here are some important facts I would like to share:

• Nothing is too small or too large to sell (if you have larger items you will need to arrange a way to get them to the buyer)

• We will be selling baked goods at all of the Kraft Shows and Gala.

Our dates for Kraft & Bakery Shows are:

• October 4, 2016 - Krafts & Bakery - Pre-function Area- 9:15 to 2:45

• November 5, 2016 - Krafts & Bakery St. Mary’s Church 10:00 – 3:00

• November 11, 2016- Bakery only -Kindervelt Gala at CooperCreek

• November 16, 2016 – Krafts & Bakery - Sabin Hall and Pre-function Area 9:30 to 3:30

We will be having a Kindervelt Kraft Meeting with the “Kraft Reps” (formerly Market Reps) on April 22 9:30-11:30 in Room D2.27 at Children’s Hospital.

I hope you are as excited as I am to make this new adventure a success. If you have any questions or suggestions, please don’t hesitate to send me an email or give me a call.

Happy Krafting!!!!

THE BARBARA FITCH AWARD

Dear Members,

In 2005, the Kindervelt Board of Trustees was looking for a way to recognize individuals who exhibit an enthusiasm and positive attitude toward the goals of the organization. Thus, the Barbara Fitch Award was created. This annual award was named for one of our founding members who has since become a prominent supporter of Kindervelt and the needs of Cincinnati Children’s Hospital Medical Center.

The Barbara Fitch Award committee is responsible for the selection of the recipient. This committee is comprised of five Kindervelt members including the City-Wide Vice President who serves as Chair, the Immediate Past President, the Immediate Past Market Chair, and two at-large members. After all qualified nominations are reviewed and a decision made, the nominator will be contacted to ensure the recipient, along with friends and family, attend the Kindervelt Annual Meeting where the award is presented.

The committee is looking for an exemplary individual to honor, so please consider any current Kindervelt member for nomination! This person should be dedicated and committed; one who is an ambassador for Kindervelt in the community, who is an active contributor to her local group, and who gladly gives her time, talents and energy to promote our cause. The nominee should represent the true spirit of charity as well as embody the mantra “others before self”.

If you know of an outstanding Kindervelt member who personifies these characteristics, please submit the attached Barbara Fitch Award Nomination Form no later than April 25, 2016. In order to give a complete understanding of your nominee’s qualifications, I encourage you to be explicit and submit feedback from multiple members to support your nomination. And as a reminder, this is a confidential process and the announcement of the winner is kept a surprise.

Thank you,

Stacy Durr-Stainton
City-Wide Vice President
This form is not required to nominate someone for the Barbara Fitch Award, it is just a guideline for the information needed for nomination.
